QUANTUM: The key to revenue analysis and machine management

Whether you're a small to medium sized operator or large business owner, Quantum provides a versatile and scalable solution that automates the monitoring and reporting of your gaming machine data. This, in turn, allows you to analyse your revenue, providing accurate, real-time accounting information to business owners and operators.

From machine performance statistics (including TITO ticket data) to fraud detection and prevention, Quantum helps you maximise returns on every machine.

Your data collection method can be configured to meet your business needs and budget.

Option 1: Use a handheld device to collect machine meter readings.

Option 2: Use state-of-the-art electronic data capture devices within each machine that continously send data over WiFi to Quantum.

Option 3: Any combination of the first two options.

And, Quantum helps you pin-point problems quickly. A graphical representation of your floor layout, viewable on your computer, plus status notifications from your machines in real time help you respond quickly and effectively.

The best part? Quantum is flexible, fast, simple to use and cost-effective.
