◎ TITO

The proven Ticket In / Ticket Out system for your business.

What is TITO?

Each gaming machine, if not already TITO, typically has a kit that removes the Coin Hoppers and replaces them with a TITO Ticket Printer. When a player wins on the gaming machine, instead of receiving Banknotes and Coins, they will receive a TITO ticket instead.

These tickets includes details of the date and time of issue, the location and most importantly the amount of money owed to the player.

Players are then free to enter the TITO ticket into another connected TITO gaming machine, where the value of the ticket will be added to the machine, or they can be verified and redeemed manually via the Quantum HandHeld or automatically via a Thomas PayStation.

Quantum TITO is fully integrated with both the Thomas PayStation range, ensuring accurate auditing of TITO ticket payments and the Quantum Machine Management System. This provides a joined-up automatic and accurate accounting of machine / ticket data and analytics for site owners and management.

The system is highly secure and reliable, no more jammed or empty payout hoppers, providing your players with the best playing experience and ensuring greater up time for your gaming machines.

How does it work?

Each TITO gaming machine in the site is connected via a Network to the Quantum TITO Server, typically located in a secure office. Whenever a player presses collect on their gaming machine, the gaming machine communicates with the Quantum TITO Server via the network and informs the server of the payout value. The server then sends the gaming machine a unique and secure number, which the gaming machine prints as a barcode via the internal TITO Ticket Printer. This ticket is then 'live' on the system until it's either redeemed or inserted into another gaming machine, at that point, the ticket and unique number cannot be redeemed again.
